PCard-11-2010: Reminder - CCSC on Twitter at CCSC_USDA

November 18, 2010

This is a reminder for USDA Charge Card Program participants that you can follow program updates from the CCSC on Twitter at CCSC_USDA (http://twitter.com/CCSC_USDA). The CCSC will be releasing updates and program information more frequently and as always, detailed information and news is posted on the CCSC website at <http://www.dm.usda.gov/procurement/ccsc/>.

In March 2010, the CCSC joined the popular social networking site Twitter, so that we may quickly and efficiently disperse alerts to the Community. These alerts will keep the Community apprised of new and updated information as well as changes to the program.

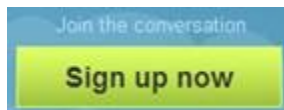

The benefits of following CCSC on Twitter include:

1. Easier dissemination of information to the local and field level,
2. An interactive way to stay abreast of information, and
3. A timely way to get questions answered and concerns addressed.

Twitter Sign-Up Process:

1. Log on to www.twitter.com and click "Sign up now" if you do not already have a current twitter account.

2. Enter your full name and USDA e-mail address and then create a username and password.
3. Upon completion (or if you already have an account), go straight to www.twitter.com/CCSC_USDA and click follow.
4. Twitter can also be accessed via your mobile device by entering your phone number on the twitter home page. Prior membership must be established before this function can be utilized.

Please email any questions to ccsc@dm.usda.gov. Thank you!
